FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Summer Camps at the Tallahassee Museum May 29 through August 17, 2007

Tallahassee, FL - With summer vacation upon us, parents are often looking for new activities and events to get involved in around the community. That is where the Tallahassee Museum comes in!

Summers at the Museum are packed with educational programs, summer camps, new exhibits and new guest animals, all on top of the everyday experiences offered at the Museum. Be sure to plan your next trip soon because there is always something new at the Tallahassee Museum.

The Tallahassee Museum is offering week long summer camps for children from pre-kindergarten to 8th grade. All of the Museum summer camps offer unique hands-on experience that they will not soon forget.

The Museum's summer program is a high-quality, long-established camp filled with fun, educational experience and outdoor explorations and exercise. What better place for a camp than a 52-acre classroom filled with live animals, 1880s farm, cabooses, habitat zoo, nature trails and historic buildings?

Camps offer nature study, historical activities, games, crafts, storytelling, music, videos and guest speakers. Watch as your little ones become "Nature Detectives" or learn about "Bugs, Slugs and Slimy Things," while the older children become "History Hoppers" or "Apprentice Zoo Keepers." Some camps offer field trips, or extended trips to other locations. Camp enrollment is small so that your child receives extra attention and care.

The Tallahassee Museum also offers a pick up/drop off program for Tallahassee. Children can be picked up and dropped off at Timberlane or Myers Park. Pre-registrations required. You can find more info about this service on the Tallahassee Museum website, www.tallahasseemuseum.org. Summer camps at the Tallahassee Museum also run longer than most camps, starting the week of May 29 and ending the week of August 13, 2007.

Be sure to reserve your space now for one or more weeks! For more information or to register by phone please call (850) 575-8684 Ext. 126.

The Tallahassee Museum, creating memories and enriching lives for 50 years.
